PREFACE.

THE authors and compilers of THE STAR OF BETHLEHEM are fully aware of the fact that the average musician dislikes a preface; yet, in this case, the writing of a preface becomes a paramount duty, for the following reasons, viz:—

1st. Because of the notation employed in the following pages, known as the Aikin or Character Note notation, which has in the last few years acquired immense popularity and is destined to become the universal musical notation.

2nd. Because its authors have been teachers of vocal music, as well as instrumental, and have an inherent confidence that they know what the average singing-master, singing-class and congregation wish and need.

3rd. In the preparation of this book neither pains nor expense have been spared to please the teacher, the class, the Sunday-School and the choir. The simple, clear and concise Rudimental Statements as found in this book must win for its authors no little honor.

4th. The eighty pages of Singing-School Exercises, which are so thoroughly practical and so nicely graded, must and will commend themselves to teacher and class.

5th. A large majority of the so-called singing-class books are devoid of solid church and devotional music. In this collection there will be found an unusually large amount of true, genuine Church Music, which fact, of itself, must commend it to the public.

6th. The Sunday-School Department is replete with cheerful and pleasant songs suited to the wants of the children, successfully avoiding the “milk and water” character of so much known as Sunday-School songs and hymns.

7th. The Anthem Department contains thirty-two pages of sterling merit, not only for the choir, but for use in musical institutes and conventions.

Lesson XII.

VOICE CULTURE.

221. Q. What is the voice, and its formation in general?

A. The voice is the sound which human beings have the faculty of producing with their own organs. The lungs and larynx are the principal agents of it. The lungs are something like sponges, that may be distended or compressed at pleasure by filling their cells with air and breathing it out again. This work is done by muscles (abdominal and intercostal) which lie under and at the sides of the lungs. The larynx (the outer projection of the larynx is known as "Adam's apple") is an arrangement of ligaments and muscles at the upper part of the windpipe (the tube which goes from the lungs to the mouth), which holds the most important part of the vocal apparatus. The first are two muscles which come together something like lips, and which may be opened or shut at pleasure. These muscles are called the "vocal chords," and the opening they make, the "glottis." Tones are produced by forcing the breath between these two lips when they are near together, and thus making them vibrate. It then passes into a small cavity called the pharynx, where it receives its musical quality; then into a larger one called the mouth, where it is perfected, and where it may be formed into words, etc.

NOTE.—The lungs hold about twelve pints of air in a person of ordinary size and health.

* Singing each tone of the chord separately is called spelling the chord, and when sung together, it is called pronouncing the chord.

222. Q. What should be the position of the singer while singing?

A. The position of the body should be erect, yet without stiffness, the chin slightly elevated, the shoulders thrown back, in order to remove all hindrance to the action of the lungs, and the mouth must be opened in a free and natural manner.

223. Q. How should we inhale and exhale the breath?

A. We should inhale through the nose, and exhale through the mouth.

224. Q. What exercise is recommended to strengthen the lungs, and help in controlling the breath?

A. Inhale slowly, but forcibly, until the lungs are inflated to their utmost capacity; hold the breath as long as is convenient without closing the throat. (Let the mind keep hold, as it were, of the muscles at the waist.) Then exhale the breath slowly, but forcibly, until they are entirely empty. This should be practised daily.

NOTE.—The difficulty with most beginners, is the liability to let all the breath go at once, and, like a collapsed bellows, find themselves suddenly exhausted. Use as little breath as possible in singing. It is said that eminent singers use so little breath in singing, that the flame of a lighted candle, placed before the mouth, will scarcely waver.

225. Q. How should we pronounce words in singing?

A. Words in singing should generally be pronounced the same as in speaking, except that the vowel sounds are often prolonged, while the consonant elements must be attacked with clearness and precision.

NOTE.—Good pronunciation, articulation, etc., should carefully be observed by the singer. Do not run words together by joining the last element of a word to the first element of the following word, or many bad effects may be produced. Example: Do not say, "The soldier's steer" for "The soldier's tear"; "Glorious soap" for "Glorious hope"; "Let us snou" for "Let us now," etc.

226. Q. What are the most general rules in regard to breathing places?

A. Breath may be taken at punctuation marks, rests, at the end of musical phrases, after emphatic words, and wherever the words will permit breath to be taken, if read instead of being sung. But breath must not be taken between the syllables of a word, nor where it would be improper to breathe, if the words were read instead of being sung.

227. Q. What is meant by phrasing?

A. Phrasing is to music what punctuation is to language. Hence, good phrasing requires an intelligent choice of breathing places. Taking breath at wrong places, either in reading or singing, makes wrong phrases, and may entirely change or destroy the sense. Example: "A man having gone to sea, his wife desires the prayers of the congregation." By changing the phrase, it might read: "A man having gone to see his wife, desires the prayers of the congregation."

228. Q. What is expression?

A. True, or emotional expression, is that which springs from the soul of the singer, being the natural outburst of the feelings expressed in the singing. The singer who does this, will then communicate to the listener his sympathies and emotions, and sway the sympathies of his audience; and both will feel the inspiration, not only of the music, but experience a foretaste of that grand song, when all the redeemed shall join with the angel choirs to praise the Lord in that land of song, where praise shall be forever!

NOTE 1.—Aim not so much to produce power as breadth and volume of tone.

NOTE 2.—Cautious and persistent practice has made more good singers than constant battling with theory.

NOTE 3.—"The characteristics of a well-formed voice," says a popular teacher of singing, "are clearness, purity, fullness, sweetness, a ringing quality, with warmth, breadth, and richness."

NOTE 4.—The tones of the human voice are universally admitted to possess more charm than any other musical sounds.

1. I sit and watch the gold-en stars Be - gem the a - zure blue, And watch-ing dream a dream of love, Of heav'n and home, and you:

2. I hear the song you used to sing In sum-mer twi - light hours, When Love's sweet chain first bound our hearts In hap - py, per-fumed bow'rs:

3. I hear a - gain the whisper'd rows Of con-stan-cy and love, That then were breath'd while gold-en stars Beau'd on us from a - bove.

4. No more! no more on Time's wild shore Shall we to-gether stray, Thro' summer bow'r, in twi-light hours When day has passed a - way.

But dark - er grows the night around, While plaintive zephyrs sigh, And mem'ry calls up vanished scenes Of hap - py days gone by.

It comes to me borne o'er the sea Of moan-ing, surf - beat years; Its silv - 'ry ca-dence thrills my heart, And fills mine eyes with tears.

But dens - er grows the night around, More sad the night-wind sighs, As vis - ions of once hap - py days Fade out be-fore mine eyes.

'Twas but a dream, 'tis still a dream, I gaze on heav'n's deep blue: A lone-ly wand - rer far a - way From home, and heav'n, and you.

I AM SINGING.

JAS. H. REUBUSH.

1. At my work I'm al-ways sing-ing, Tho' the days be cold and long, For my heart's so full of mu-sic That I can-not stop my song.

2. I am sing-ing in the sun-shine. Tho' the sky is dull and gray; I am sing-ing of the flow-ers All the chill-y win-ter day.

3. I am sing-ing of the gar-den.—Of the ros-es there in bloom,—Of a thou-sand things in na-ture, 'Mid the win-ter's sul-len gloom.

I am singing, I am singing, Tho' the days be cold and long, For my heart's so full of mu-sic That I can-not stop my song.

I am singing, yes, I'm singing, Tho' the days be cold, be cold and long.

THE TEMPERANCE BALL IS ROLLING ON.

J. H. HALL.

1. From the moun-tain to the prai-ries, From the val-leys to the sea, The temp'rance ball is roll-ing. Hear the shout of ju-bi-lee.
2. Let the hills and mountains an-swer With a smile both bright and long, And brooks ring out a laugh-ter, Like the sweet-est cho-ral song.

As the news goes roll-ing on-ward, Roll-ing on-ward round the world, Our hearts are fill'd with glad-ness. And our ban-ner is un-furl'd.
Let the for-ests bow re-spon-sive, And the birds their notes pro-long, For all things must re-joice to see The temp'rance ball roll on.

CHORUS.

For the temp'rance ball is roll-ing, roll-ing on, roll-ing on, The temp'rance ball is roll-ing, roll-ing on, roll-ing on, And our hearts are fill'd with glad-ness, Which we ech-o with a song, When we see the temp'rance ball go roll-ing, roll-ing on.

CHURCH MUSIC DEPARTMENT.

OLD HUNDRED. L. M.

GUILLAUME FRANCO, 1543.

Praise God from whom all blessings flow, Praise Him, all creatures here be-low, Praise Him above, ye heav'nly host, Praise Father, Son, and Ho - ly Ghost.

ROCKINGHAM. L. M.

DR. LOWELL MASON.

1. A-wake, my soul, and with the sun Thy dai - ly stage of du - ty run; Shake off dull sloth, and ear - ly rise To pay thy morning sac - ri - tice,
 2. Wake, and lift up thy-self, my heart, And with the an - gels bear the part, Who, all night long, un-wea-ried sing High praise to the e - ter - nal King
 3. Glo - ry to Thee, who safe has kept, And hast refresh'd me while I slept; Grant, Lord, when I from death shall wake, I may of end - less life partake.
 4. Di - rect, control, sug - gest, this day, All I de - sign, or do, or say; That all my pow'rs, with all their might, In Thy sole glo - ry may unite.

DUKE ST. L. M.

J. L. HATTON.

1. Come, O my soul, in sa-cred lays, Attempt Thy great Cre-a - tor's praise; But oh, what tongue can speak His fame? What verse can reach the loft - y theme?
 2. Enthroned a - mid the ra-diant spheres, He glo - ry, like a gar - ment wears; To form a robe of light di - vine, Ten thousand suns a - round Him shine.
 3. Raised on de - vo - tion's loft - y wing, Do thou, my soul, His glo - ries sing; And let His praise em - ploy thy tongue 'Till list'ning worlds shall join the song.

REST. L. M.

W. B. BRADBURY, 1844.

1. A - sleep in Je - sus! blessed sleep! From which none ever wake to weep; A calm and un - disturbed re - pose, Un - brok - en by the last of foes.
 2. A - sleep in Je - sus! peaceful rest! Whose waking is su - preme - ly blest; No fear, no woe shall dim the hour That man - i - fests the Saviour's pow'r.

BEAUFORT. L. M. (Double.)

L. C. EVERETT, by per.

1. He dies! the Friend of sinners dies! Lo! Salem's daughters weep around; A solemn darkness veils the skies; A sudden trembling shakes the ground;
 2. Here's love and grief beyond degree, The Lord of glo - ry dies for men! But lo! what sudden joys we see! Je - sus, the dead re - vives a - gain:

Come, saints, and drop a tear or two, For Him who groan'd beneath your load; He shed a thousand drops for you, A thousand drops of rich - est blood.
 The ris - ing God for - sakes the tomb, Up to His Father's court He flies: Che - ru - bic le - gions guard Him home, And shout His welcome to the skies.

1. Praise waits in Zi - on, Lord, for Thee; Thy saints adore Thy ho - ly name: Thy creatures bend th'obedient knee, And humbly Thy pro - tec - tion claim.
 2. Thy hand has raised us from the dust; The breath of life Thy spirit gave; Where, but in Thee can mortals trust? Who, but our God has pow'r to save?
 3. Still may Thy children in Thy word, Their common trust and refuge see; Oh, bind us to each oth - er, Lord, By one great tie—the love of Thee.

NAUWETA. L. M.

R. McINTOSH.

1. Bless, O my soul, the liv - ing God; Call home thy thoughts that rove abroad; Let all the pow'rs within me join In work and worship so di - vine.
 2. Let ev - 'ry land His pow'r confess; Let all the earth a - dore His grace: My heart and tongue with rap - ture join In work and worship so di - vine.

OLIVE'S BROW. L. M.

W. B. BRADBURY.

1. 'Tis mid - night, and on O - live's brow The star is dimmed that lately shone: 'Tis midnight; in the gar - den now, The suf - f'ring Saviour prays a - lone.
 2. 'Tis mid - night, and from all removed, The Saviour wrestles lone with fears; E'en that dis - c - ple whom He lov'd Heeds not his Master's grief and tears.

WINDHAM. L. M.

DANIEL READ, 1785.

1, Broad is the road that leads to death, And thousands walk together there; But wis - dom shows a nar - row path, With here and there a trav - el - ler.

SESSIONS. L. M.

J. O. EMERSON.

1. Sin-ner, oh why so thoughtless grown? Why in such dreadful haste to die? Dar-ing to leap to worlds unknown. Heedless a - gainst thy God to fly.

2. Wilt thou despise e - ter-nal fate. Urged on by sin's de-lusive dreams? Madly at the in-fer-nal gate, And forc-e thy pas - sage to the flames.

3. Stay, sinner, on the gos-pel plains! And hear the Lord of life un-fold The glo-ries of His dy-ing pains! For-ev-er tell - ing, yet un-told.

MEDINA. L. M.

Music by WYATT MINSHALL.

1. Je - sus the Lamb of God, hath bled; He bore our sins up - on the tree; B - neath our curse He bow'd His head; 'Tis finish'd! He hath died for me.

2. See, where before the throne He stands, And pours the all-pre-vail-ing pray'r: Points to His side and lifts His hands, And shows that I am - gray-en there.

3. He ev - er lives for me to pray; He prays that I with Him may reign: A - men to what my Lord doth say; Je - sus, thou canst not pray in vain.

DOUTHIT. L. M.

Moderate.

1. Thou on-ly Sovereign of my heart, My refuge, my almight-y Friend, And can my soul from Thee de - part, On whom alone my hopes depend?

2. E - ter-nal life the words in - part; On these my fainting spir-it lives; Here sweeter com-forts cheer my heart Than all the round of na - ture give.

3. Let earth's al-lur-ing joys combine; While Thou art near, in vain they call; One smile, one blissful smile of Thine, My gracious Lord, outweighs them all.

4. Low at Thy feet my soul would lie; Here safety dwells, and peace divine; Still let me live be - neath Thine eye, For life, e - ter - nal life is Thine.

1. Be mer-ci-ful, O God of grace, To us Thy peo-ple: let Thy face Beam on us that Thy church may shine, In this dark world with light di-vine.

3. Let them with joy Thy praises sing, Earth's righteous Judge and sov'r-ign King: Il-lu-mined by Thy ho-ly word, Let all the na-tions praise the Lord.

Re-veal, O Lord, Thy say-ing plan. To all the fam-i-lies of man: Let dis-tant na-tions hear Thy word. Let all the na-tions praise the Lord.

Then shall this bar-ren world as-sume New beau-ty, and the de-sert bloom: Our God shall richly bless us then, And all re-joice His name. A-men.

ANCIL. L. M.

G. J. WEBB.

1. So let our lips and lives express The ho-ly gos-pel we pro-fess; So let our works and vir-tues shine, To prove the doc-trine all di-vine.

2. Thus shall we best proclaim a-loud The hon-ors of our Sav-iour God: When the sal-va-tion reigns with-in, And grace subdues the pow'r of sin.

3. Re-lig-ion bears the spir-its up While we ex-pect that bless-ed hope,—The bright ap-pear-ance of the Lord,—And faith stands lean-ing on His word.

HEBRON. L. M.

DR. L. MASON.

1. Thus far the Lord has led me on; Thus far His pow'r prolongs my days; And ev'ry ev'ning shall make known Some fresh memorials of His grace.
 2. Much of my time has run to waste, And I, per-haps, am near my home; But he forgives my fol-lies past; He gives me strength for days to come.
 3. I lay my bod-y down to sleep; Peace is the pil-low for my head; While well-appointed an-gels keep Their watchful stations round my bed.

HARRISONBURG. L. M.

J. H. HALL.

1. Sweet is the work, my God, my King, To praise Thy name, give thanks and sing; To show Thy love by morning light, And talk of all Thy truth by night.
 2. Sweet is the day of sa-cred rest; No mortal cares shall seize my breast: O, may my heart in tune be found, Like David's harp of sol-enn sound!

FOREST. L. M.

CHAPIN.

1. Here, at Thy cross, in-car-nate God, I lay my soul be-neath Thy love; Beneath the drop-pings of Thy blood, Je-sus, nor shall it e'er remove.
 2. Should worlds con-spire to drive me hence, Moveless and firm this heart should lie! Resolved, for that's my last de-fence, If I must per-ish, here to die.

OLIVET. L. M.

I. B. WOODRURY.

1. When I sur-vey the wondrous cross On which the Prince of glo-ry died, My richest gain I count but loss, And pour contempt on all my pride.

DEVOTION. L. M.

1. Show pi - ty, Lord, O Lord, forgive, Let a re - pent - ing reb - el live: Are not Thy mer - cies large and free? May not a sin - ner trust in Thee?
 2. My crimes are great, but don't surpass The pow'r and glory of Thy grace: Great God, Thy na - ture hath no bound. So let Thy pard'ning love be found.

A. A. RUTLEDGE.

1. I'm a lone-ly pil-grim here, Vexed with man-y doubts and fears, As I jour-ney a-long by the way;
2. Here the des-ert wilds ex-pand, Round a-bout on ei-ther hand, But I'm near-ing the Jour-dan you see;
3. When the wil-der-ness is past, And I reach that home at last. Oh, how hap-py my poor soul will be;

But I hope at last to stand, On fair Co-nan's peace-ful land, Free from sor-row and from doubt and dis-may,
And be-yond that nar-row stream, End-less bow'rs of bless-ing beam, They are bloom-ing there for you and for me,
With the glo-ri-fied to stand, On that glit-tring glo-ry land, And my Sav-iour, lov-ing Sav-iour to see.

D.S.—Thro' the still-y hours of night, From the plains of end-less light, Spir-it roic-es sweet-ly whis-per to me.

2. Sweet hour of pray'r! sweet hour of pray'r! Thy wings shall my pe-ti-tion bear, To Him whose truth and faithfulness, Engage my wait-ing soul to bless:
3. Sweet hour of pray'r! sweet hour of pray'r! May I Thy con-so-la-tion share, Till from Mount Pis-gah's loft-y height, I view my home and take my flight:

In sea-sons of dis-tress and grief, My soul has oft-en found re-lief; And oft escaped the tempter's snare By thy re-turn, sweet hour of pray'r.
And since He bids me seek His face, Be-lieve His word and trust His grace, I'll cast on Him my ev-ry care, And wait for thee, sweet hour of pray'r.
This robe of flesh I'll drop, and rise, To seize the ev-er-last-ing prize; And shout, while passing thro' the air, Farewell, farewell, sweet hour of pray'r.

SWEEPING THRO' THE GATES.

1 Who, who are these beside the chilly wave,
 Just on the borders of the silent grave,
 Shouting Jesus' power to save,
 Washed in the blood of the Lamb?

Chorus. Sweeping thro' the streets of the New Jerusalem
 "Washed in the blood of the Lamb,"
 Shouting Jesus' power to save,
 Washed in the blood of the Lamb.

2 These, these are they who in their youthful days
 Found Jesus early, and in wisdom's ways,
 Proved the fullness of His grace,
 Washed in the blood of the Lamb.

3 These, these are they who in affliction's woes,
 Ever have found in Jesus calm repose,
 Such as from a pure heart flows,
 Washed in the blood of the Lamb.

THE CHILD'S DESIRE.

1 I think when I read that sweet story of old
 When Jesus was here among men,
 How He called little children like lambs to His fold
 I should like to have been with them then.

2 I wish that His hands had been placed on my head
 That His arms had been thrown around me,
 And that I might have seen His kind look when He said,
 "Let the little ones come unto me."

3 Yet still to His foot-stool in prayer I may go,
 And ask for a share of His love,
 And if I now earnestly seek Him below,
 I shall see Him and hear Him above.

4 But thousands of thousands who wander and fall
 Never hear of that heavenly home,—
 I should like them to know there is room for them all,
 And that Jesus has bid them to come.

AS A SHEPHERD.

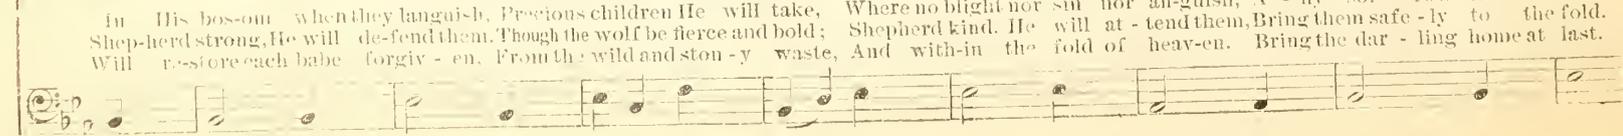

C. H. GABRIEL.

1. As a shepherd He will lead them, To green pastures they shall go; All His blessings, as they need them, On the lambs He will bestow.
 2. To the wells of cooling waters, In the sultry noon of day, Every little son and daughter, With the gentle One shall stray.
 3. If upon the craggy mountain, Any lambskins flee away; Jesus, from the cooling fountain, Will overtake them where they stray

In His bosom when they languish, Precious children He will take, Where no blight nor sin nor anguish, Any sorrow can awake.
 Shepherd strong, He will defend them, Though the wolf be fierce and bold; Shepherd kind, He will attend them, Bring them safely to the fold.
 Will restore each babe forgiven, From the wild and stony waste, And within the fold of heaven, Bring the darling home at last.
